Every now and then at the Adlon and Bristol hotels where Americans assembled someone was heard to remark: "I wonder what they're drinking on Broadway tonight?" Berlin did not suffer any dearth of beverages, thanks to the "hole in the wall," through which liquid refreshment found its way to the capital.

In anticipation of luxury and turnover taxes which will be effective after today, Berlin had its final fling last night.

CHICAGO RAIDS NET 200 RADICALS; U. S. REFUSES AID

State's Attorney Hoyne Goes Ahead When Attorney General Palmer Calls Men Off.

PLAYING POLITICS, CHARGE

Palmer Cussing, Hoyne Declares, Adding That His Opinion as a Democrat Is That No "Fiddler" Can Ever Be Elected President of the U. S.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—In a series of raids, 310 in all, according to reports, 200 prisoners were taken. State's Attorney Hoyne and his staff of assistants started the new year in Chicago with a determination to wipe out bolshevism and anarchy in this community. For years the center of the nation's radical activities.

Beginning promptly at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and continuing far into the night, scores of raiding parties descended alike upon open air beer gardens, places of the dozen or more radical clubs existing in the city and more than 200 were gathered within the police net, according to the latest returns.

This was accomplished without the cooperation of the federal authorities in the Department of Justice and not only against their wishes, but with active hindrance from them according to the state attorney. He charged that not only had the government, for some inexplicable reason, withdrawn their aid, but that the reds "without any question" had been "tipped off by some employe or attaché of the Department of Justice."

Mr. Hoyne said that at noon Thursday, after receipt of a personal letter from Attorney General Palmer asking him not to proceed with the plan, Department of Justice agents withdrew.

"Apparently Attorney General Palmer or some of his friends are playing petty politics with the situation and pursuing a pussyfoot policy," asserted the state attorney. "Expressing my opinion as a citizen and a Democrat, I do not believe Nero or any other idler can be elected president of the United States."

Edward G. Brennan, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, refused to comment on the absence of his men from the raids.

Plans for the raid had been under way for five months but had been carefully concealed, according to Mr. Hoyne. He personally made several trips to Washington, where, he said, he arranged complete harmony between the Department of Justice, the military intelligence department and his office. For many months, he declared, this was in doubt, owing to the constant internal warfare waged between the military and civil branches of the investigation.

A week ago, according to Mr. Hoyne, John C. Freigh, special assistant to the attorney general, came to Chicago to handle the litigation growing from the raids. At that time it was planned that both federal and local authorities cooperate with officers to make the raids. The Department of Justice looked towards deportation of any alien radicals captured and the local authorities acting under the recently passed Illinois syndicalist law, making it a criminal offense against the state to preach destruction of the government by force.

In a statement issued late last night State Attorney Hoyne declares that a gigantic conspiracy has been formed throughout the United States to overthrow the United States government. Headquarters of many of the red organizations in this conspiracy are located in Chicago.

"The conspirators proposed to establish in this country a soviet form of government, patterned after the present form of government in Russia. They proposed to seize the industries, the business and the natural resources of the country by direct action, which means action taken through their organization by force in total disregard of the law. They propose they shall rule politically and industrially and that rule of the proletariat be established."

"They prepared 'councils,' which are military units and which they call the red guard. They have established schools in Chicago and elsewhere."

"Tons and tons of seditious literature, advocating the destruction of our government are being disseminated by those conspirators all over the country."

200 PRISONERS FORCED TO SEE MURDERER HUNG

Hardened Criminals Placed in Cells Overlooking Scaffold Yell 'When Do We Eat?'

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—An experiment in psychology was tried this morning at the county jail in the grisly dim hour of dawn when 200 prisoners were forced to witness the hanging of Italo Burrage, convicted murderer. Hardened criminals—selected from among other murderers and felons whose exploitation is not yet the jail—were placed in cells, tier on tier of which surrounded the square in which the scaffold had been erected. It was the contention of Sheriff Peters that the sight of gruesome hangings would have a most salutary effect upon those in whose life might come future temptations to slay or to rob or to burn.

So firmly the sheriff believed in the efficacy of this idea that he persisted in it despite the request of Governor Lowden and the added protest from scores of other persons who thought the scheme brutal.

Accordingly the stage was set in the death chamber. Burrage was led forth. The quiet in the death chamber became absolute for a moment. After the rope was slipped over the murderer's head.

From one of the higher tiers came a strident shout, "when do we eat?"

Tier by tier, cell by cell the cry was taken up. It became a roar above which the warden's voice could not be heard. The trap was sprung. Burrage dropped into the space beneath the scaffold, dead.

"When do we eat?" was his requiem.

THINK SHE FELL IN DARK

Investigation Reveals That Woman Started for Greensburg On 6:30 A. M. Car; Friends Believe She Walked Off Road Where Old Bridge Ended.

Special to The Courier.

MT. PLEASANT, Jan. 2.—Workmen engaged on the construction of the new bridge over Jacob's creek at Iron Bridge yesterday afternoon discovered the body of a woman, later identified as that of Mrs. James Long of Iron Bridge, submerged in the waters of the sulphur creek just outside the north abutment of the new bridge. The men had worked at the spot all day but not until 4:30 o'clock was the discovery made.

Several times members of the force had noticed a basket lying in the water. Finally one ventured out to get it and was horrified to find the handle held fast in the death grip of the woman. Dr. M. W. Horner, deputy coroner of this place, was called and he personally identified the woman, having known Mrs. Long when she was a resident of Mount Pleasant some years ago.

Investigation revealed that Mrs. Long had started from home to get the 6:30 car for Greensburg. It was very dark at the time. The new bridge is not on a line with the old one which collapsed several months ago and the presumption is that in the dark she walked onto the new road and stepped off the abutment into the stream.

The water is several feet deep at this spot and the bottom is covered with a considerable layer of mud so that one unable to swim would have difficulty in getting out.

The body was removed to Ferguson's undertaking rooms at Scotland. Mrs. Long was formerly Lillian Brothers of Mount Pleasant.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair, a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage. Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and, carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, scaly or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a toilet-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and keeps falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv

HAPPY GANG OF NEWSBOYS BANQUETED BY JOHN KESTNER

Good Things to Eat Followed By In-spring Tales By M. R. Pryce and Captain E. Dunn.

John Kestner was host to some 28 newsboys at the Star restaurant last night. To say that a delightful time was had by all, would be putting it all too mildly. Seated around a long table, prettily decorated, the boys had the privilege of ordering whatever they desired—or rather their stomachs desired. For some the preference was for steaks, for others juicy steaks or pork chops and for one it was two, orsters and steak. All of which is mentioned to show that the "sky was the limit" so far as Mr. Kestner's hospitality was concerned.

Ice cream and cake, followed by candy wound up the feast, which was so hard on one boy that he had to take a walk around the block to digest what he ate. The smallest had present ate the biggest meal and showed no ill effects. Frank Mullen made such a hit with a woman diner at the restaurant that she wanted to take him to Pittsburgh with her but he gracefully declined with the remark that he "didn't like Pittsburgh." A red, white and blue pin was given to each boy as a favor.

Also guests of Mr. Kestner were M. R. Pryce, of The News; William P. Sherman, of The Courier; Captain E. Dunn and William Kestner. Mr. Pryce and Captain Dunn made short talks pointing out to the boys the responsibility of their work and urging them to be honest at all times and careful in the delivery of their papers. The party broke up with three cheers for everybody present. Those present were:

Arthur Gordon, Romeo Capriotti, William R. H. Dallas, Rose, Frank Ellis, Thomas Watson, Francis Mullen, Vessie DeLong, Abe Wadofsky, Richard Premise, Abe Marcus, Joseph Doerfler, Aaron Marcus, Joseph Johns, Hymen Bradsky, Walter Blackstone, Edgar Swartzwelder, Leon Gordon, Emmet McClintock, Walter McClintock, Raymond McClintock, Allen K. Bitner, Lester Bittner, Harvey Marcus, Ernie DeLong, Justin Ash, Inbo Copriotti and William Kerrigan.

ACTRESS KILLED

Hurtled from Speeding Auto Over Side of Bridge at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Veneta Fitzhugh, a New York musical comedy actress, returning from a New York celebration Thursday with two friends, was catapulted over the windshield of an automobile when it skidded across a bridge to West Philadelphia and fell 60 feet to railroad tracks below. Death was instantaneous.

Miss Fitzhugh was born in St. Louis and came to Philadelphia after being educated in a convent. She recently returned from London where she played in a musical production and was visiting here. She was about 24 years old. The automobile was driven by William A. Claden, a public accountant, with whom Mrs. Fitzhugh was spending a few days. He was arrested and held pending action by the coroner. With Claden and Miss Fitzhugh in the machine was Edward J. McGooglie of this city.

According to witnesses, the automobile was running at high speed across the bridge and skidded in turning out to go ahead of another car. The skid was so great that the machine swung completely around, struck the side of the bridge, whirled about and hit an iron electric light pole and struck the bridge again. The young actress was hurled over the side of the bridge as she stood up violently to jump out of the machine.

LIKE OLD TIMES
Big Crowd Revises Soisson for "Peck's Bad Boy" Matinee.

That "Peck's Bad Boy" Matinee has the same appeal for the youngsters of today as in days of long ago, was demonstrated this afternoon when a crowd of several hundred children besieged the entrance to the Soisson theatre, waiting for the doors to open. Some of them were lined up an hour before the performance began. At one time they filled the lobby, with 100 or more outside. Many persons were turned away, the house being completely filled.

It looked like old times—those before the movies came into their own—to see a lineup outside the theatre.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 2, 1920.

OUR PROGRESS IN 1919.

Until "one's memory" has been refreshed by the reading of the chronology of the local events as published in The Courier yesterday, the magnitude and importance of the material progress the city made during the year cannot be fully appreciated.

Quietly and without seeking to attract undue attention, the several industries located within or encircling the city took decided steps forward during the twelve-month just closed, enlarging their facilities, increasing their equipment and making betterments of such character as will enable them to share in the era of prosperity which it is the confident belief of every well posted observer will sooner or later set in.

The Silgo Iron & Steel company, after a checked career, got firmly on its feet, added extensive improvements and under an aggressive and capable management has become a going enterprise. Several hundred men are being given steady employment and business is in sight of sufficient volume to keep the mills running full time for many months to come even if additional orders are not received.

The Conneltsville Silk company erected an addition to its plant, materially increasing its productive capacity and the number of its employees. The Capital Glass company finished a thorough overhauling of its plant and began work on the addition of another continuous tank which, when completed, will double the capacity and call for the addition of 100 more employees to its payroll.

The Fayette Baking company, a wholly new enterprise, acquired a site and commenced the construction of its plant which will involve the expenditure of $150,000. The United States Electric Steel company was rescued from the junk pile by the courageous action of a group of former stockholders who have faith that this enterprise can yet be revived, as it very probably will be.

The West Penna. Railway company announced its plans for the construction of additional shops on the West Side which will enlarge the already extensive plant at that location and afford still more opportunities for the employment of skilled men.

The Conneltsville Foundry, Machine & Steel Casting company increased its capital stock during the year for the purpose of taking care of its rapidly expanding business. Uniontown capital was attracted to Conneltsville through the purchase of one of the city's large department store buildings and the plant of the Young Lee & Storace plant on the West Side.

Merchants purchased another business block on the city's principal street and opened a store in another. The Aaron company made provision for the expansion of its business by purchasing ground as a site for a $300,000 branch in Uniontown.

Concluding the year the transaction of the greatest magnitude was consummated when through the efforts of the new Chamber of Commerce an automobile manufacturing corporation was capitalized at $3,000,000, was secured the largest single addition to the city's industries in its history.

With this catalogue of our achievements, not to mention numerous others of lesser magnitude, the all of importance in contributing to our substantial industrial growth, we can have very proper pride in the progress made during 1919.

FIDDLING INSTEAD OF FIRE-FIGHTING.

The "unfencing" persistence and aggressive warfare" Attorney General Palmer declared will be the feature of the "open season" for the "Reds" during 1920, fished badly and failed miserably to aggress on the first test yesterday.

The raid on headquarters of the radicals in Chicago yesterday, which was to have had the cooperation and active support of the Department of Justice was, States Attorney Hoyne declared, "against the wishes of the federal authorities and with active hindrance from them." He further charges that the government not only withdrew its aid at the last moment, but that the Reds "without any question" had been "lipped off by some employers or attachés of the Department of Justice."

It is the true—and Attorney Hoyne is certainly in a position to know—it is not surprising to the public, but it may jar official Washington to have Mr. Hoyne make this rather bold assertion:

"Apparently Attorney General Palmer or some of his friends are playing petty politics with the situation and are pursuing a pass-go policy."

"Expressing my opinion as a citizen and Democrat, I do not believe in or any other fiddler can be elected President of the United States."

WORK THE GREAT SPECIFIC.

The view was expressed in these columns some weeks ago that the numerous conferences, congresses and other gatherings, convened for the purpose of proposing and discussing all sorts of theories and plans to remedy our many so-called social and industrial ills, were in reality doing more harm than good, as the results to date so abundantly prove.

Affording opportunities for people to exploit all kinds of plans and schemes for creating ideal conditions and relations in society and industry through the application of their panaceas, the gatherings that have been held have amounted to nothing more than debating societies, or, what is infinitely worse, have served as means through which unrest has been accentuated and the breach between contending elements widened. Commenting upon the opinion on this matter as expressed by The Courier, the Pottsville Journal makes these interesting and pertinent observations:

Scan over any paper that carries the general news of the country and you will find that there are being held many conferences and conventions that have to do with "social work." These gatherings are all largely attended and are usually prolonged, some of them covering from three to five days. Voluminous addresses are made and there is prolonged discussion of abstract social, economical and religious questions. Then an adjournment is taken and everybody leaves, some of the attendants to go to another similar conference under a different name the following week. Scarcely it ever does anything tangible as tending toward improving conditions, come out of the gatherings.

One of the besetting faults in this country at present is the fact that too much innovation, too much of the substitution of advanced ideas for tried and proven ideas, too much vision and not enough hindsight, too much advice and too little action, too much idealism and too little of the practical. If the men and the women who habitually attend these "social" conventions and gatherings were to stay at home and do real work the nation would be better off. The disorder in production can be accounted for in considerable part by the fact that there are too many people in the nation who are spending their time talking and doing little work that counts. If the thousands of men and women who are attending unproductive "social" conventions, many of them created during the war and continued for the "social good" of all of us and industrially the pocket-book of the job holder, it would help mightily in eventually swelling production for of course these people would finally have to go to work at something that counts.

Let us get down to a basis of less conferring and convening and more work. Talk, especially the kind indulged by the attendants at the "social" conferences and conventions, merely aggravates the ailment for which a cure is sought. Work is the real specific that is needed. The greater the regularity with which it is administered the quicker and more certain will be the recovery to a normal state of social and industrial health.

Now that crosses and decorations are figuring largely in the public notice William Jennings Bryan, looking other reward for extraordinary heroism in presence of the enemy during the World War, is said to be contemplating placing the Cross of Gold upon his bugles left breast again.

"Drinking wood alcohol" is one way of taking your measure for a wooden suit.

Have you learned to write it 1920?

The Administration announces that the sugar situation is to be left to itself. "Which means, of course, that the speculators and profiteers will continue to take care of it just as they did when aided and abetted by the sugar control board."

If the Parliament designers seek real economy in women's clothing why not go back to the Age of Iron and be done with it?

What advice calamity the country is facing? Hundreds of census-taking jobs unfilled because the supply of "serving Democrats" has become exhausted.

Having made such a good record in keeping down the cost of fires in the city the fire ladies should now be given a chance to try their skill on H. C. L.

Any punctures in your New Year's resolutions yet?

The Spread of

From Business Review, Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

Our American people are indulging in a wave of senseless extravagance.

The reaction from the thrift and economy during the war period is widespread and disturbing. With no thought of price, with little provision for the future, our people, almost without exception, are demanding goods, especially luxuries, thus aiding an economic situation which they decry, yet take no active steps to combat.

During the period of the war millions of dollars were spent in propaganda calculated to encourage thrift and saving among our people. Neither of these qualities, unfortunately, is characteristic of Americans, and it took the shock of an expensive war to force us to realize the waste and lack of economy which we had hitherto permitted to go on, unnoted and unchecked.

The signing of the armistice was apparently the signal for an outburst of the buying fever which has, from all indications, not yet reached its height. Essential, then non-essential, were bought in quantities which rapidly depleted the moderate stocks held by merchants and forced the people, surfeited with money and completely under the influence of a "spending spell," to turn their attention to the "class" of goods, properly called luxuries, as indicative of the extent to which our extravagance had led us, we repeat the statement of a prominent firm in this district that the amount paid by their customers in luxury taxes would more than equal the firm's income and excess profits tax.

(There was a time, within the recollection of many of us, when price was a controlling factor in purchasing; but price no longer enters into our calculations. It has been demonstrated over and over again that goods will sell more quickly at an arbitrary 25 per cent increase than at the original price. A retail shoe dealer recently stated that he was compelled to mark up the price of his goods, as he found that customers were leaving his store and purchasing similar goods from his competitors, at higher prices. Buyers for merchandise houses are no longer concerned with price. The only question raised is that of delivery—knowing that the public will demand the goods regardless of cost.)

All these instances indicate the extent to which the disease of apenditis is spreading. The remedy is plain. Production must be increased, and consumption limited to those things which we really need. We must learn to distinguish between luxuries and necessities. It is a common fallacy that, because incomes have doubled in the past few years, our standard of living has changed so that these things which we once regarded as luxuries are now classed as essentials. We must remember that the purchasing power of the dollar has declined in about the same ratio that incomes have increased.

It is the spendthrift, buying recklessly and without determination, who is the enemy of economy and the aggravation of the careful buyer. It is not the merchant who should be the most severely censured. To hold his trade a merchant must supply the wishes of his customers. If he does not do so, they will go to the places that will.

SAYS ITS WONDERFUL

"I was so all run-down and tired all the time I couldn't seem to get back into my old vigorous health. Sleep did me little good and going from one place to another as nurse, the constant change kept me upset and I was actually puzzled what to take, when I read about Earle's Hypo-Cod and decided to take it. The results were wonderful and it doesn't seem to be like other medicines at all. Has more power and does the work so quickly and tastes so nice I heartily recommend Earle's Hypo-Cod to everyone worried or run-down," declared Mrs.
Bessie Moses (nurse), 35 N. Forest ave., Youngstown, Ohio.

One of the oldest and best known nurses in Canton, Ohio, during the "flu" epidemic last winter declared she worked through it all on long stretches without rest or relief and did tonic.

It stimulates the nerves, builds up the wasted tissues, enriches the blood and is an actual food tonic of the greatest

NERV-WORTH IS STILL SELLING AT ONE DOLLAR

Makers Contribute Their Share Towards Keeping Down the High Cost of Living.

"Your Dollar Back" Still Goes in Nerv-Worth
Advertisements.

Some time ago, compelled by enormously increased costs in production, advertising and distribution, we notified druggists that it would be necessary for us to secure greater returns from the sale of Nerv-Worth. Two methods offered themselves: a higher price to druggists or a reduction in the size of our bottle. The latter course involved delays incident to a change in bottles, cases, etc., so we took the shorter way and advanced the price to druggists. Dealers who bought at the advance put up the retail price; most of the others continued the sale at $1.00 out of older stocks.

When we made the decision first steps were taken to reduce the size of the Nerv-Worth bottles, in the hope that thereby we could get back to the old popular dollar price. Those steps have now progressed to the point where the necessary size-changes are in sight.

But a chance offers to do something toward keeping down the high cost of living for the immediate present, at least, and effective January 1, 1920, we have enabled even the druggists who bought Nerv-Worth at the advance to sell the preparation at once at one dollar instead of waiting for the size-changes to be made.

In our plans to reduce the bottle contents, we are not seeking to cover the loss entailed by vastly higher costs. To continue giving the public a big dollar bottle of Nerv-Worth we are making a costly sacrifice. Our existing Nerv-Worth bottle contains 16 ounces and is one of the largest of its class. The new one will not be disappointingly smaller. Nevertheless, it comes Nerv-Worth users will get the biggest medicine bargain of the day by buying 16 ounce bottles of Nerv-Worth at a dollar. And so again
we say:

CLOUD ON EYE OF SUNSHINE!

When You're Expecting Pleasure
Most, Look Out for Pain.

"When you're expecting pleasure most look out for the pain," said the Famous Man.

"Did you ever stop to consider how frequently and how amply the truth of this old saying is demonstrated? How our lives, on the eve of some expected sunshine and happiness, are darkened by the shadows of distress and disease?
How much better would it be for us to prepare a safeguard against the inroads of ill-health by starting, when you feel the first signs of approaching weakness."

"When you get languid, loopy, listless, and have tired-out-all-the-time feeling, with not ambition or energy, and suffer frequently from headaches, backaches, dizziness and depression of spirits, it is a mighty good idea to try Eaton's."

Eaton's, which quickly dispels the impurities from your system, and affords you the necessary proteins that put you in the pink of condition, is sold

BILIOUSNESS Caused by Acid-Stomach

People who are bilious are treated according to local symptoms they exhibit; get very much better. Whatever relief is obtained is usually temporary. Trace biliousness to its source and remove the cause and the chances are that the patient will remain strong and healthy.

Doctors say that more than 70 non-organic diseases can be traced to an Acid-Stomach.
Biliousness is one of them. Indigestion, heartburn, headache, sour stomach, bloated and gas are other signs of acid-stomach. EATONIC, the macerous modern stomach remedy, brings quick relief from these stomach miracles which lead to a long train of ailments that make life miserable if not corrected.

EATONIC literally absorbs and carries away the excess acid. Stakes the stomach tion; improves the appetite and you get full strength from your food. Thousands say

FURNACES FEELING EFFECTS CURTAILED COKE PRODUCTION

The Total Demand is Greater;
By-Product Output Still Below Normal.

CARS OUT OF TERRITORY

There Being No Prospects of Early Government Price Control Removal, Contract Negotiations Have Been Suspended; Year's Average Prices.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 31—Coke is still in scant supply, the shortage being on the whole as pronounced as it was a week ago. The furnaces are this week feeling the effects of last week's curtailed production in the Connellsville region, the curtailment being due to the double influence of the holiday and the shortage in car supply. Hopes are entertained that this week's production will show an improvement.

A factor that helps to make the coke shortage pronounced is that a number of blast furnaces not previously operating are scheduled for blowing in if coke can be secured, and thus the total demand is greater than it was a few weeks ago.

While the output of by-product coke has been increasing continuously it is still well below normal, on the whole, a result being that instead of the by-product ovens having any coke to sell in the open market, the attendant blast furnaces are seeking to buy coke in the market, though as a rule without avail. By-product oven operations are dependent entirely upon coal shipments as all accumulations at ovens have been consumed. Shipments are restricted by car shortages.

As to the car situation in general, the railroads are suffering under the double effect of bad weather and of many cars having been moved far from their normal channels during the period of coal scarcity. A careful inquiry has shown that 21,000 cars loaded with coal from Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia went to Chicago and points beyond, some even penetrating as far as Salt Lake City. Immediately upon the coal mining settlement the railroads made, every effort to get these cars to destination and have them unloaded, but they are not all back to their regular service as yet.

The coke market remains quotable at government limits as follows:
Furnace $25.00
Poundry $20.00
In view of the scarcity of coke there is no prospect of removal of the government price control in the near future. Reports have it that since the control is likely to stay on for some time the authorities are considering the steps to be taken to prevent against violations of the law in case any violations should develop, as the law is quite drastic in prescribing punishments.

Negotiations on coke contracts are suspended by reason of the price control, as contracts could not be made within the limits and operators are unwilling to sell for the half year of year at the government price. It is a question, however, whether furnaces would be willing to pay those prices for more than three months, as it is the view of quite a number of furnace interests that the prompt coke market will be lower by some time in March.

The pig iron market has settled down in the past week and is very quiet, with no further advancing tendency. Should the market stay at its present alignment the Connellsville furnaces, that bought coke on a ratio basis would have a nice margin in the respect that foundry pig iron is $2.00 a ton above basic iron, when in the past the two grades have usually sold at about the same price. The ratio contracts are usually based on basic pig iron at Valley furnaces, this being now $35.00, so that a 5% to one contract makes a settling price of $6.36 for the coke, whereas the furnaces will use some of the coke to make $38.00 pig iron. The advance in pig iron appears to be over, at least for a while, with the market well established as follows:

These prices are f. o. b. Valley furnaces, freight to Pittsburgh being $1.40.

Average prices of spot and prompt coke have been as follows this year:

	January	February
Basic	$35.00	$35.00
Poundry	$30.00	$30.00
Year	$32.50	$32.50

"PECK'S BAD BOY"—The funniest show in the world is being presented today. It's brighter and better than ever. There's the bad boy and his chum, the bad boy's girl, his pa and ma and the old grocer, Schultz, upon whom are played many new and up-to-date tricks. Attractive specialties are introduced during the action of the comedy, greatly adding to the enjoyment of the performance. The play this season is said to be funnier than ever. Anyone who has treasured up pleasant memories of his youth is sure to have it brought back again while witnessing "Peck's Bad Boy."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"POOR RELATIONS"—Released by Robertson-Cole, is an interesting feature today.

"Poor Relations" has the "human touch." The characters seem real, flesh and blood, just as they did in "The Other Half," "Better Times," and "The Turn in the Road," other Robertson-Cole productions made for Robertson-Cole.

The theme of "Poor Relations" is expressed in one of the introductory titles: "Tho' you speak with the tongue of good breeding and are of the first family, if you have not love, you are sounding brass of a tinkling cymbal."

rather than plot. The author brings you to a little country town and shows you the domestic life of the Perkins family, Ma and Pa Perkins, and Dorothy and Daisy Perkins, their daughters. Home, big hearted and human, but not cultured in the sense in which that term is generally understood, the heart interests of the Perkins appeal by their simplicity and naiveness.
